Strength Capital to acquire teleconferencing company

By Tom Henderson

Strength Capital Partners L.L.C., a Birmingham-based private-equity firm, plans to announce Wednesday the purchase of Dascom Systems Group and a software subsidiary, Eastview Industries Inc.

The sale price will not be disclosed. The total revenue of the two was about $16 million in 2005.

Dascom, based in Woodbury, Minn., is an integrator of audio and video systems for teleconferencing and distance learning, allowing smaller independent telephone companies to provide voice, digital cable TV and Internet services over existing copper telephone lines.

It was the second acquisition in less than a month for Strength Capital, which announced on May 31 the purchase of Indiana-based Barber & Ross Co., a manufacturer of wood and vinyl windows, doors and trim products.
